Australian Pursuit: The Australian pursuit will be the last class run for the event. The pursuit is based on a qualifying handicap system and is limited to adult classes at this time. The Race will be for 15 laps. Entrants qualifying times from other ran classes of the day will be used in the calculation of the Handicap. If a racer chooses to only run the Australian pursuit there will be a Qualifying session for the Pursuit only entrants.

Once all qualifying times are recorded and handicap calculated. The slowest qualifying timed entrant will start the when he or she enters the track. All other entrants will be delayed per the qualifying handicap that was calculated.

Example: Kart A Qualifying time is 50 seconds. Kart B’s qualifying time is 49.5 seconds. Kart C’s time is 48.75 seconds. Subtract Kart B’s time from A’s Time= .5 seconds X 15(the number of laps for the race) = a 7.5 second wait time before kart B can enter the track. Car C’s Handicap is figured the same way. 50 seconds minus 48.75 x 15 = 18.75 second delay to enter the track. The handicaps for all entrants will be calculated and then entrants will be lined up in the order of slowest to fastest for the start of the race.

The Starting kart will have a streamer or some Identifying marker to indicate it is the lead kart.

Break out rule if any kart completes a lap during the race that is 1% faster than their qualifying time they will be Subject to a Time penalty or up to disqualification.

Example Kart A’s time was 50 seconds. $50 - 1\% = 49.5$ seconds Kart A cannot go faster than 49.5 seconds during the race or they will be DQ. Kart B $49.5 - 1\% = 49.005$ seconds, Kart C $48.75 - 1\% = 48.263$ seconds.

The winner of the race is the first kart that crosses the start finish line at lap 15.

Note in Theory all karts should cross the start finish line at the same time.

Entry fee for Australian Pursuit will be normal race entry if it is the only class ran for the day. If it is run as a second class, Entry fee is $20.00 if registered prior to 11:00AM. If entered after 11:00AM entry fee is $30.00.
